VOL. XVII. WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1898. No. 20

Hon. M. A. Hanna.—Every republicrn musr go home and vote.

Robert H. Terrell,—Appointed in the High School—See 4th page.

THEY SAY

Life is uncertain.

Everything is chance in life.

Life is what you make it.

Nothing is certain until it is made certain.

Speak well of your friends it will pay you.

Look out for the daily BEE.

Roosevelt will have a hard road to travel.

Think well of every one, and never believe all that is told you.

Some people talk of you because others do.

Remember that every subject has two sides.

Always give your enemies the benefit of every doubt.

It is dangerous to come to conclusions on circumstantial evidence.

Many an innocent person is convicted by just such means.

False representations should be left to those who are false to themselves.

Judges cannot agree at all times, how can lawyers.

Shysters not should be recognized.

It is the great man who will succeed.

A truthful man is an honest man. He can be trusted.

The daily Post has taken a rest on the negro question.

It is against the law to laugh at a policeman in the street.

If you do your duty, nothing more can be expected of you.

The position of a public officer is a hard one.

The Afro-American League is still sleeping.

Why cannot colored men organize politically?

What the colored voter needs is manhood.

Pension Commissioner Evans has made more promotions than any of his predecessors.

The colored clerk has been fairly treated,

Don't be too certain of anything.

Never dig a well for others you may fall into it yourself.

Mudd will not be a popular article in Maryland.

Sidney now wants the negro vote.

He will never get it and don't you forget it.

The socialist party has four candidates for Congress in Md.

Be careful how you talk and to whom you talk.

Your friends will betray you some times innocently.

Some people cannot judge a good thing when they have it.

Virginia politics as well as New York politics will need coloring.

Both parties in both states are after black ink.

The ink is hard to show up on the paper they are using.

We appeal to those we have abused sometimes.

No representative District negro has been appointed as yet.

The truth is the best thing to tell always.

Home rule is what the people of this city want.

Speak the truth at all times.

The High School teacher, Prof. Gregory, is a learned young man.

Has Miss Moten decided to resign as yet?

The negro and the democratic party are questions at issue now.

Negro leadership is a thing of the past.

There are only two persons interested in the Douglass bill.

The beneficiary and the author of the bill.

The colored people of the country are opposed to its passage.

Some people get themselves into a hole and endeavor to saddle the blame upon others' shoulders.

Caution!—There have recently been issued several cheap reprints of the 1847 edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, an edition long since superannuated. These books are given various names,—"Webster's Unabridged," "The Great Webster's Dictionary," "Webster's Big Dictionary," "Webster's Encyclopedic Dictionary," etc., etc.
Many announcements concerning them are very misleading, as the body of each, from A to Z, is 44 years old, and printed from cheap plates made by photographing the old pages.

THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

Every movement looking to the purification of society should be hailed with glad tidings and assisted to the greatest extent possible within legal bounds. Of the many organizations designed to correct social evils is that styling itself the Anti Soloon League. It would seem that its aim is to discourage the habit of wine drinking by curtailing the number of saloons. Vigilant committees are going the rounds at all times seeking to discover violations of the license law and are quite a terror to the saloon keeper. We have no disposition to be critical, but it does seem to us that the movement is seeking reform by attacking the wrong end of the line. The issuance of a liquor license is based upon two considerations at least. First as a means of obtaining revenue to meet the demands and expenses of governing the city and secondly, in order to satisfy a demand If the second instance did not obtain the first would be ineffectual. Hence instead of attacking the saloon keeper, good judgment would suggest a vigorous attack upon the authority which issues the license and the demand which renders the sale of liquor profitable. It is well known that those who are in high places are in the habit of using alcoholic stimulents. The "cold tea" drinking in our Congress is imitated all along the line while the example set in high places is imitated throughout the community. Why not seek to check the custom of drinking at the Capitol? To do this would be logical, for in that case the source of legislation would be purified and pure legislation could reasonably be expected. Again, it would seem desirable to seek to effect a change of sentiment with respect to wine drinking. The dissemination of useful information touching the evil effects of the use of alcohol as a beverage would seem a proper means of curtailing the consumption of intoxicants. This could be effected by distributing pamphlets in which the physiological effects of alcohol are clearly set forth, by dealing with the question from its moral and hereditary aspect. The policy of condemning the liquor vender while winking at legislation which legitimizes the traffic is the wrong way of effecting a reform. There is no earthly use in harrassing those who are merely the instruments of public greed and public debauch. If they are engaged in questionable business it is because the government finds it wise, or profitable or both to authorize its conduct. This espionage and quasi-police methods designed to besmerch the reputation of dealers in liquors, is not calculated to bring about the desired results. It is too much like the tall gawky coward who when asked whether he could whip a man of his size, stated that he could whip the little brother, but did not want to fight the challanger. If temperance stands for anything as a principle, it is worth fighting for and the only way to make a successful fight, is to attack the strongest enemy. That enemy is legislation and the drinking habit in high places. If we would drive intemperance from the land, let us stop the manufacture of liquor and stop issuing licenses for the sale of it. Until the advocates of temperance can summon up enough bravery to strike at the proper place, the crusade ought to cease. At all events the man who sells liquor should not be condemned while the government is left unassailed.

A NATION OF LYNCHERS.

Ida B. Wells, in the course of a lecture before a London audience, said that the American people were a "nation of lynchers." The American press, at the South, went wild with rage, and the young colored lady whose character and ability they had lauded to the skies a few years before, was described as a loathsome wretch totally devoid of morality, individual merit, and unworthy of credence.

But Miss Wells had only to show her newsper clippings, taken from the American press, arranged in chronological order, and her case was proved. We are a nation of lynchers pure and simple. We do not lynch to punish crime. We simply lynch to exhibit race hatred. If we lynched to punish crime, we would lynch a white man who outrages or attempt to outrage a colored woman. But we do not do this. We are methodical about this lynching business. If a negro is charged with having outraged a white woman he must die without judge, jury or benefit of clergy But if the culpable party should happen to be a white man and his victim a colored woman the case undergoes a complete change and white public opinion says that the white man must not be punished. This is usually accomplished by smirching the character of the colored woman.

There have been numerous instances of outrages committed, in this city, by white men, (some in high places) upon colored women and young girls. In only one instance has there been a conviction. Two months ago a white man attempted to commit an outrage upon a little colored child by the name of Ardrill Peyton, living with her parents at 1420 E steet, northwest, and upon conviction, was sentenced to two months imprisionment. Had he been a negro and the girl white the case would have gone to the grand jury and the culprit would have landed in the penitentiary. Such is justice in christian America.

The white press and pulpit, with a few exceptions, are as silent as the grave on this important subject. "Its only a nigger" they say, and to them the "nigger" is a small quantity in the equation of human life since he cannot now be put upon the auction block and bartered like an ox. During the days of slavery he was an important personage. His life was a precious thing in the hands of his master—this master who sucked from the breast of his mother and who is now shooting him down on the slightest provocation because, forsooth, the slave is now free and is a competitor with him in the race for wealth and honor.

The city is now filled with eminent clergymen from all parts of the United States. They represent the great Episcopal Church. Of all their number what one of them will have the temerity to denounce the unlawful killing of a colored man at Annapolis Wednesday morning? What influence has the christian religion in the United States, when a mob can walk into a capital of a commonwealth, enter its jail without opposition, drag out a State prisoner, shoot him down in its streets and retire unmolested? And who believes any one will suffer for this crime? It is only a repetition of thousands of others committed by white men and it will go on and on until white men having become surfeited with negro blood will turn upon their own kind. Chaos will reign and the christian religion will be an iridescent dream. We are a nation of lynchers.

THE NEGRO AT THE SOUTH.

The National Farmers Congress has invited Booker T. Washington to deliver an address before that body at Fort Worth, Texas, in December next. This remarkable fact called forth a left-handed compliment from the Boston Globe in which it was stated that it is a "striking evidence of southern white men's appreciation for the good work done for his race by a black man," The Mobile Register, accepting the compliment, acknowledges the same in these words:

"The mistake made by the northern philanthropists in their efforts to help the negro was in thinking the negro was a white man with a black skin and that he needs what white men most need, namely, a high school education. What the negro needs is knowledge of how to cultivate the soil; how to make things; how to acquire moral status."

Referring to this bit of exchange, the Post, pretending to see in it an exact correspondence of sentiment between the North and the South, in a gush of enthusiasm explains that,

"Today all observant and enlighted men this side of the Potomac realize that at the South the negro finds his truest friend and his most generous opportunities."

Just how the Post makes this out is hard to see. The Globe merely congratulates the southern whites upon their appreciation for the good work Mr. Washington is doing for his own race. It does not say that the southern people are doing anything very appreciable to assist in race elevation. It was simply generous enough to express satisfaction at the mere fact of inviting a colored man to address a body of southern whites. But the Register throws the fat in the fire when it explains the motives and reasons which prompted the southern friends (?) to extend the invitation. It claims that in point of moral and intellectual constitution there is no similarity between the whites and blacks; that a high school education which a white man most needs is no sort of use to a colored man and that the negro is fit only for agriculture and other vocation in which manual labor is required. The negro must know how to farm and how to make things. Pray how long an apprenticeship is it necessary to serve before one can be said to know how to farm? The negro has done all of the farming at the South for lo these two centuries. And to what extent has he profited by it in point of material, moral or social advancement? He must know how to make things. How and where is he to learn this useful art? The southern whites do not make things. About everything they use is made at the North and during all the year of leisure which they have had they have yet to produce a respectable author. Manufactures as southern enterprises are as yet undiscovered arts. The few located in the South are manipulated mainly by northern skill and strife. He is to acquire moral status. And how is he to do that when the thousands of whites young and old are practically turned loose to despoil the character and humiliate and degrade the manhood and womanhood of the race. The fact is that invitation which the Post wishes to magnify into an expression of sincere friendship, is merely an attempt on the part of the southern people to distract the attention of our people from the pursuit of those lines of education which tend to elevate the intellectual status of the race and are destined to enable us to grapple successfully with the great moral and intellectual questions which determine the greatness and power of a race. The Mobile Register, would have us a race of "hewers of wood and drawers of water" and the Post seems to agree with it. That there is need of farmers, mechanics and tradesmen we do not doubt. And we are encouraging our people in those lines. But we also need thousands of highly educated men and women whose tastes and abilities may be directed along the grooves followed by the white race. Until the Post and its southern allies can concede to the negro those helps toward advancements which go to make up an all-round educated colored man or woman we will be content to regard the southern whites as enemies and not friends. Meanwhile the Post may continue to expect to be criticised by "little negro newspaper organs" as it is pleased to call us.

CONSOLIDATION.

We understand from a reliable and trustworthy source that there is a movement on foot looking to the consolidation of several of the benevolent societies of this city conducted by colored men. In conversation with a gentleman of high social standing and well known business capacity, being none other than Mr. Jerome A. Johnson, the BEE was informed that it is proposed to form into one gigantic organization the following associations: United Aid, membership 90; Banneker, membership 175; Fred Douglass Relief, membership 188; Protective League, membership 75; Immediate Relief, 60; Knights of St. Augustine No. 1, 150; No. 2, 100. Total 838.

With many others Mr. Johnson believes that it is possible to form an organization of a thousand members. As now constituted, the several societies can do no more than pay sick dues and give respectable burial to those who die. Little if anything is left for the widow or children of the deceased, and the idea of caring for aged and decrepit members has never been contemplated. With a membership of one thousand a sufficient sum, in excess of accruing death benefits, for the purchase of a Home for aged members could be raised. Property could be bought in the city and suburbs which could become valuable assets of the society.

If Philadelphia, New York City, and Boston can do this why not Washington with its wealth and superior intelligence? As to the funds now belonging to the several societies there are feasible plans of equalization which will place each upon an even basis at the outset. The BEE is in hearty accord with this movement and hopes to see it succeed.

THE FAMOUS 9TH CAVALRY.

Well, it is strange that the Washington people have so little respect for bravery and patriotism. They have more respect for sham bravery and patriotism than any class of people in this country.

Prior to the return of the District soldiers fron Santiago, where they had been sight-seeing, the people of this city, pushed on by the Washington Post, went into hysterics to do honor to our hot house plants who went to Cuba and return with the fever. Windows, doors and sashes and even chimney tops were decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the District soldiers who had made an excursion trip to Cuba and were greeted on their return to this city as heroes. But when the real soldiers visited the city, the famous black cavalry, not one of those white and black hot house plants would turn out. What does it mean? Was it because those brave and patriotic men saved the Rough Riders from being slaughtered by the Spaniads and won deserving distinction for bravery and patriotism on the field of battle? Or was it because their skin is black and the color prejudice is still in the hearts of those hot house plants otherwise brave (?) District boys who went to Santiago on an excursion and returned with the fever?

PROF. TERRELL APPOINTED.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES APPOINTS A SUCCESSOR TO PROF. H. M. BROWN.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of school trustees on last Tuesday night, Prof. Robert H. Terrell, graduate of Harvard College and a citizen of Washington, ton, was apointed a teacher of physics to succeed Prof. H. M. Brown, also a Washingtonian, who has accepted a position in the Hampton Industrial School, Hampton, Va. The withdrawal of Prof. Brown, from the High school is to be regretted by the people of this city. Prof. Brown is a man of ability and quite popular among the people. However the appointment of Prof. Terrell, will give great satisfaction among the people. He is a man of ability and influence in this community and there is no doubt but his appointment is a great acquisition to the High school.

Robert H. Terrell, Esq., whose portrait graces the front page of this paper, stands high and no doubt one of the most popular young men in this community and a man on whom all classes will concentrate, without the least opposition. He is a postive character. He has a most accomplished lady for a wife, who can speak and write several foreign languages fluently. She was a Miss Church, before she became the wife of Mr. Terrell. She was formerly a teacher in the high school of this city, was subsequently made one of the trustees of the public schools after her marriage with Mr. Terrell. She is the president of the Afro-American Woman's Association, the strongest female institution, among the colored women, in the world. As a speaker and writer he has but few equals. He is a man of fine executive ability and honest in his dealings with his fellow men.

He was reared in the city of Washington, where he attended the public schools when they were first established. He attended the Summer High School from 1872 to 1875. He was prepared for college at Lawrence Academy, Groton, Mass. He graduated at Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass., with the degree of A. B., cum laude in 1884, being the first colored graduate of the University to win this distinction. He represented his class as one of the commencement orators by virtue of this honor. Mr. Terrell taught for a long time in the Colored High School in this city where his work was exceptional in charcter and highly commended. He was appointed chief of a division in the Treasury Department during the Administration of President Harrison and filed his office in a most acceptable manner. Mr. Terrell graduated at Howard University Law School in this city in 1889 at the head of his class and was the valedictorian. Since 1893 he has practiced law at the District bar.

He stands high in the Manonic fraternity, being deputy grand master of this Jurisdiction, he is also a member of the G. U. O. O. F., and an active worker in the order.

The citizens of Washington, irrespective of color are proud of Mr. Terrell. This is his home, the place of his childhood where he has felt the toils and cares that confront one when he is struggling for an education. He has taken every honor for which he has competed. He is the pride of his people and a rising star in the educational firmament of this republic.

As an educator he has few equals among his race. He will no doubt keep his school to that high standard in which he finds it.

MARYLAND SINS.

Brutal intelligence comes to us again in the form of a most heinous lynching committed upon the soil of old historic Maryland. While the American people abhor the fiendish homicide and stamp their foot of disapproval upon such it is worth while to consider whether any steps will be taken to bring these perpetrators to account. This lawlessness existing at a States Captal, is in a sesnse a proof that disgrace and barbarism is preferred to honorable government What ever offense was thrown at the door of the unfortunate victim, does not at any time abolish the idea that the law should have taken its proper course. No matter how grave the charge, how serious the nature, in this country, as well as all civilized countries, the courts of the land should mete out the law and not the citizens. To be assailed by bullets, and strung up to trees, is indeed something intolerable and forms a cloak too horrible for assumption. We need not go South to get the siftings of her incompassionate resorts to equity, for within a stone's throw of our own capital an excellent preamble has been shown. To admire the disposition of Gov, Lundes in this matter is the sentiment of most every right thinking mind and if he is not baffled by the municipal authoritis, the guilty culprits will be hurriedly ushered to the bar of jusctice. A glowing chance is given Annapolis, the seat of the crime to redeem herself and release the suspicion of this disgrace.

THE JOHN HAY INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

THE SHAW INDUSTRIAL HALL DEDICATED. DISTINGUISHED VISITORS PRESENT—HUNDREDS TURNED AWAY.—WORL OF ENTERPRISING YOUNG MEN.

(Special to the BEE.)

Alexandria, Va. Oct. 10, 1898.—The John Hay Industrial School in this city held dedicatory exercises on last Sunday afternoon. The hall was didicated to Col. Robert G. Shaw, who was regarded as a great friend to the colored soldiers. The John Hay Industrial school was founded by Rev. R. B. and Editor Magnus L. Robinson of this city and named for Hon. John Hay, the present Secretary of State. Both of these young men deserve great credit for their tact and enterprise in giving to the citizens of Alexandria, Va., such a school for the education of the boys and girls. The names of the Robinson brothers will go down to posterity and be remembered by coming generations for the establishment of this industrial monument to the colored youth.

Among those who occupied seats upon the stage were: Major C. B. Fisher, Sergeent W. H. Carney, Editor Magnus L. and Rev. R. B. Robinson, Rev. Jenkins, Major George W. Stewart, Mr. J. W. Cromwell W. Calvin Chase and others.

The exercises were opened with paryer and followed by singing. Major Fisher introduced Sergeant Carney who spoke in part as follows:

"We have met to commemorate not only a galiant and noble death, but a heroic and chivalrous soldier, who now lies under a soldier's sepulcher. I want to say that you could not have selected a more appropriate name for truly Robert G. Shaw was an exception among the young men of his class. I will speak of him as I knew him and tell you as much as possible of the interest he took in the elevation of the colored race; for I think his life will inspire you to a high standard in your school. He came from one of the best families of New England; with plenty of means and the highest social standing, educated in the best schools of Europe and America. When he saw the suffering of those whom he believe to be as good as he in the sight of God, his heart and soul were inlisted in their behalf. The time had come when the worthiness of colored men to bear arms was to be tested, when their courage and endurance were to be tried on the battlefield. The commonwealth of Massachusetts decided to trust her flag to their keeping and to place one of her chivalry at their head. The duty of leading the colored men seemed to fall upon Robert G. Shaw. In order to do this he was compelled to some extent to break the bonds of friendship and encounter much oppositon; but he proved himself equal to the task."

HIS PRECEPT AND EXAMPLE.

Continuing the eulogy the speaker said: "He came to us a Christian, who began his work for love and humanity. He was a strict disciplinarian but kind to all. Think of a colonel of a regiment issuing and enforcing an order forbidding an officer swearing at a soldier under the penalty of arrest, and forbidding a soldier to swear or speak defiantly at an officer. He set an example of bravery to his soldiers, for on James' Island he sat on his horse unflinchingly while the bullets and shells were flying, and seeing his men dodging, cried out; "Steady boys don't Jodge, but look straight to the front."

Addresses were by Mr J. W. Crom well and Editor W. Calvin Chase.

AT THE THE THEATRES.

ANOTHER AMERICAN TRIUMPH!

The Black Crook Company, a spectacular extravaganza, something unusually splendid in a musical and comedy line, and of a quality calculated to please the most enervated and satiated of theatre-goers will begin a week's engagement at Kernan's Lyceum Theatre, commencing Monday October 17th. This company is far above the average combination, being original in conception and replete with new and up to date ideas, intelligently carried out with superior artistic and scenic effect. The ingenuity of clever electricians has been taxed to the utmost to carry out and perfect the ideas of the management, who are thoroughly satisfied with the result attained. The costuming is distinctly Parisian in design and embraces all that is pretty and tasteful, a particularly rich combination of color and design being shown in the burlesque. Originally being the objective point the usual "First Part" has been eliminated, having in its place a crisp two act Musical burletta in which specialties are introduced by such well known artists as, Ben Harney and Company; Grace Vaughn; Weston and Beasly; Hughes and Hughes; Wm. Mitchell; Murray and Everett; and others who will help to make up a peformance to please the most cosmopolitan as well as the most exacting audience. Twenty blushing examples of glorious American feminity who can sing and dance and who keeps things lively during the action of the burlesque have been specially engaged by this organization. Taken altogether it means two hours and a half of solid clean fun, and crowded houses are sure to be the rule during this engagement.

Comrade Afro-American.

Written for the BEE.
By Comrade Samuel Adams Wiggins.

A Bostonite Afro. so happy and gay,
A heart as light as a child's at play,
A comrade so gentle, kind and sweet;
From his curley crown to his dancing feet.

A Yankee Afro. so brown and glad,
He never was sorrowful, never was sad,
A singing with tender melodious voice
A heavenly message. Rejoice, rejoice.

We went thro' the war of Freedom's fight,
We went thro' the war of Slavery's night.
We both came out with the Starry Flag,
And walked all over that rebel rag.

My comrade, my comrade is singing now,
Where the roses and lilies unfading grow,
And I Hear, I hear him with seraph voice,
A chatting so sweetly, rejoice, rejoice.

Rejoice for the promised time has come,
Rejoice for the gladness of love's sweet home;
Always singing the self-same song,
And mine eyes are beholding the ransomed throng.

Now his dusky, dusky dark brown face.
Hath a halo of splendid celestial grace
And his shining brow of the dusky brown,
Wears a comrade's glorious patriotic crown.

Now he chanteth to me with his heavenly voice,
Little comrade, dear comrade, rejoice, rejoice,
There's a robe and a palm and a crown for thee,
And all who have died for the Flag of the Free.

ROYAL BLUE TRAINS.

In September last, railway officials from London were sent to America, to get ideas on the railway passenger service of the leading lines in this country, and in their official report, which was printed in the London Times in January, it was stated that the "Royal Blue Line" series of magnificent passenger trains, running between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, lead the world for quick and exquisite train service.

The "Royal Blue Line" service consists of nine elegant passenger trains a day in each direction between the cities named above. They are the finest and fastest trains in the world. Their equipment was built especially for the service by the Pullman Company, and includes every modern convenience known for the comfort of passengers. The trains are vestibuled from end to end, and hauled by the strongest and fastest locomotives in the United States.

The exquisite day coaches of these trains are worthy of special note. They are beautifully upholstered, each containing a washroom and smoking compartment.

The parlor cars are the most palatial ever built, being fully seventy-three feet long. In addition to this service, three new parlor cars were added in April, and are the first of this kind ever run; they are richly upholstered and ornamented throughout in most beautiful designs. A ladies' retiring-room is provided in one end of the car. This room, which is six feet square, is furnished with a beautiful dresser with large mirror and a number of drawers. On each side of it are upholstered corner seats. In another corner is a bookcase and stationary washstand. The room was designed for especial comfort of ladies, who have always claimed men had the best of it when travelling. The usual smoking apartment, however, is at the opposite end of the car.

The dining cars are operated by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, and especial attention is given to the menu. Every delicacy is served in season, and the service is unsurpassed.

In addition to the already perfect service of "Royal Blue Trains" mentioned above, there will be put into service May 15 a "Royal Limited" train, which will leave New York at 1.00 P. M., making the run to Washington in FIVE hours. Returning, the "Royal Limited will leave Washington at 3.00 P. M., arriving New York at 8.10 P M. The "Royal Blue Line" will then boast of three trains which make this extraordinary fast time between Washington and New York, which has never been attained by any other line. The "Royal Blue Trains" between Baltimore and Washington make the run in FORTY-FIVE MINUTES—the fastest regular service ever attained between the two cities.

The terminal at New York City is the most convenient for all points in Greater New York. Passengers can land at South Ferry (Whitehall Terminal), where, under the same roof, connection is made with the elevated lines of the second, Third, Sixth and Ninth Avenues, and the Broadway, Lexington and Columbus Avenue Cables. All the Brooklyn Ferries also start from this point, and by taking

SCHOOL OF PRINTING.

We would respectfullly call our readers' attention to a new field of lador that THE BEE has inaugurated at its office, 1109 I street, N. W.—a School of Printing for colored youths. It is the intention of the management that any who may avail themselves of the advantages of this school, shall receive a complete practical training in the art of printing in all its branches. The instructions will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Chase, member of the Typographical Union of this city, and who is without doubt among the best all-round printers in the country. Our facilities will be augmented by an entire new printing outfit, including all the latest styles of type, job presses and cylinder press, which will give pupils a chance to be up-to-date in the trade. In this connection we would ask our patrons to send in their orders for job work of any kind, as we will now be able to fill all orders from the smallest visiting card to the largest poster, and promise that our prices and work will compare favorably with those of any firm in the city.

Any young man desiring a trade will do well to write us for terms, etc., or call at this office and look over the establishment. The school will open on July 26th, and those desiring tuition will do well to inquire at once, as only a limited number can of necessity be accommodated. For information, terms, etc., Address, W. Calvin Chase, Manager Bee School of Printing.

Thanking you for past favors, and feeling assured of your support in this new endeavor, we are yours, THE BEE.

Maid:—Deception of any kind should be ignored. A person who does one thing and says another is deceitful.

D. E.—It is useless to buy a fall hat since you have a blue, brown or gray straw which can be trimmed with black velvet and ostrich tips and look as pretty as any new fall style.

M.—Let your greatest ambition be to do your duty.

Esther:—I have no doubt that the cause of the low marriage is that many men dislike intellectual women; they are afraid that their wives may know more than they do, hence such marriages.

L.—I agree with you when you say that the more careless a person seems the better he seems to be liked, but such admiration is of short duration. Matters not how much a man may admire the company of a gay young miss he admires modesty wherever found.

Ida:—I cannot fail to appreciate the courtesy you have shown me. Read the daily and weekly newspapers also choice literature to broaden your ideas. Cheap novels are not helpful to any one.

Personally, I like men that I can look up to, but believe that the day is not far distant when women will not only be man's equal intellectually but man's superior. No, I am not in favor of men as school teachers, it looks too feminine or that it is taking work from women. Women no doubt, make better teachers than men.

Pupil:—The Normal school misses are exceedingly bright this year and a prosperous term is predicted.

A. T.—Your womanly qualities surpasses your charms and have won for you nothing but the highest praise; however, don't keep the gentleman waiting so long.

Nellie:—The cultivation of simple habits, refinement and taste in dress as well as sedateness, will go far to show the true woman or man.

Troubled mother:—Even if you do not approve of the young man, it is better that your daughter should meet him under your roof than elsewhere. Keep your girl's confidence and try to show her that you have only her good at heart.

Reader:—I cannot give the full name of writers to this column. I Shall be glad to answer any question you may ask.

Laura:—A girl of seventeen summers and only in the Sixth grade, would make better time studying the profession of trained nurse. No payment is required to enter a school for trained nurses. A good nurse can always demand from ten to twenty dollars per week.

Beginner:—Short, plain and frequent lessons in music are best. The best results connot be attained in anything when one's patience is taxed.

E. T.—Flashy dresses look vulgar on a sedate young lady.

L. T.—Miss E. F. G. M., is supervising principal of the primary department and a most excellent teacher.

Marriage:—It is reported that Miss L. E. M., will marry very soon. It is not known who will succeed her. It is better for you to seek a position that you can fill.

School:—There is too much meddling on the part of the authorities. Teachers should be disciplined.

Ella:—You should be satisfied with what you have.

High school:—It is not certain whether the business high school will have a principal or not. It will be a male if the school authorities decide to have one.

J.—Your refined manners are bound to be appreciated. Refinement in women is bound to win.

Etta:—You have an independent spirit which must be admired in man or woman.

A:—You have a very expressive eye. Such an eye is coquetish, which means that you have your eyes on more than one. Some girls are hard to please.

Isabella:—Patience is usually rewarded. All things come to him who waits.

Bride:—At a quiet home wedding, with a trip in view, it is quite the proper thing for the bride to wear a dark traveling dress.

L. C.—It is most unfortunate, but it is true, that physically, a woman grows older sooner than a man and that is one of the reasons why I object to a woman marrying a man her junior.

Miss D.—It is unnecessary to show any weakness when you are right. Be a positive character.

Miss L. E. C.—True friendship can only be found in an honest woman. Truthfulness should be your motto.

Etta:—It is unnecessary to be suspicious of your friends. You must trust some one. Be mild in your dress.

Miss E. F. G. M.; is a very positive character and a lady not easily fooled. E. T.—it would be well for you to consult her.

School.—The transfer of the principal from Garnett to Lincoln has given satisfaction to the ladies of Garnett, but is regretted by the ladies of Cook.
